

Hearings Short on Charter

Connally Believes Charter May Be Ratified Without Any Amendments

WASHINGTON, July 6—(P)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) predicted today that all attempts to attach reservations to United States ratification of the United Nations Charter will be beaten down.

Saying he had been informed that at least two senators plan to present reservations, Connally added to a reporter:

"I'm of the firm conviction that we shall be able to defeat all reservations and ratify the charter without amendment."

At the same time, Connally said hearings before the foreign relations committee he heads will be shortened as much as possible.

"I hope that we can finish them in a week," he said. "That's just a hope, however."

The hearings open Monday in the caucus room of the Senate office building.

The House, meanwhile, arranged a 10 a. m. (CWT) session to hear reports on the charter from Chairman Bloom (D-NY) and Rep. Eaton (NJ) ranking Republican member of that chamber's foreign affairs committee.

Both were delegates to the San Francisco conference.

Should "Lead World"

Bloom called on the Senate to "lead the world" in ratification, asserting in a prepared address:

"The new charter has all the machinery we need to make a brave beginning for a new and better world."

"No one claims it is either final or perfect," Bloom said, "but its principles have been tested and found successful in war and we are now about to test and prove them in peace."

The charter x x x offers a workable means of providing for the self-protection and self-preservation of civilization without encroaching upon those ideals of freedom and liberty which are so dear to all Americans."

Eaton told the House that "The San Francisco conference and the charter it created, regardless of whatever imperfections it may develop in practice, is the greatest and most hopeful public event in history."

People Satisfied

Already, he said, it has been "ratified by the American people, regardless of party or condition, and by the peace-loving peoples of other lands."

"Ratification by the various governments will merely stamp with official approval what the great masses of the people have already welcomed and accepted as the fulfillment of the age-long hope for the final banishment of brute force and the enthronement of justice in all human relations."

Connally said there would be few official witnesses before his committee other than former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and Leo Pasvolosky, State Department expert on international organization.

Ask All Poles To Remain Loyal

LONDON, July 6—(P)—The repatriated London Polish government called upon the 250,000 men in its armed forces today to remain loyal—an action which apparently challenged the pending plans of the Big Three to give these men a choice between returning home or remaining abroad.

Shorn of recognition by Britain and the United States, the exiled regime of Premier Tomasz Arciszewski declared that it would hand over its authority "solely" to a government formed on free Polish soil.

Shaffer Is Suspicious

WASHINGTON, July 6—(P)—Rep. Shaffer (R-Mich) wants congress to inquire into whether Brig. Gen. Elliott Roosevelt's influence might have helped Transcontinental and Western Airlines, Inc. get a trans-Atlantic air route grant.

Shaffer told the house yesterday he made "no direct accusation, but I am forced to admit I am suspicious that some undue influence was brought to bear to cause the favorable reconsideration of TWA's application to fly the Atlantic routes."

Soldiers Get Fraudulent Discharges

Investigation At Mitchell Field Discloses Racket

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., July 6—(P)—

Existence of a "complex, organized racket" whereby soldiers obtained "fraudulent medical discharges" and transfers from "hot outfits" due for combat duty was announced today by the First Air Force.

Fee for discharges was "several thousand dollars," and somewhat less for transfer to safe, secure branches of the army, the air force public relations office said in announcing results of an investigation begun last April into "irregularities" at Mitchell Field here.

The air force said the recent court martial of Maj. Walter V. Radovich, charged with accepting bribes to keep two enlisted men in safe jobs "is not in any way connected with the present investigation."

The announcement did not give the number of men who had obtained the fake discharges, but said most of them "were from units in distant parts of the United States and not connected with the First Air Force."

Made Money Payments

"Evidence indicates," the air force statement said, "that payments of money were made to certain unscrupulous civilians in the metropolitan area."

These civilians passed soldiers on "to military members of the conspiracy at Mitchell field, who then effected completion of the fraudulent processing," the air force said.

The "cunningly planned and operated conspiracy" arranged to avoid detection, the statement continued, by mixing the fraudulent discharges in with the constant flow of legitimate ones obtained by wounded veterans flown here for processing and treatment.

Mitchell field, an aerial debarcation port, receives 4,000 wounded a month from Europe.

Suspicion of irregularity first began when it was discovered that several enlisted men had obtained fraudulent extensions of their turnings, the First Air Force said, adding:

False Messages

"False official messages had been sent to the home stations of these men . . . advising their organization commanders that the men were hospitalized. There was no record, however, that any of the men underwent hospital treatment."

The statement said two officers and several men who allegedly obtained the false discharges "are being held in confinement at Mitchell Field." The officers were not medical men but were attached to the hospital staff.

No names were made public by the First Air Force, which said its investigation was still not complete. Court martial proceedings will be held later, it said.

"So far," the statement said, "there is no evidence to substantiate rumors of favoritism by those in command authority," and the "complex pattern of manipulations" evidently was handled by "persons in lower levels."

The First Air Force announcement was in the form of a statement to the press and was accompanied by a note signed by Capt. Norman Q. Reader, air corps public relations officer.

Truman Signs Post Office Employees' Law

Giving Them First General Raise in Pay Since 1925

WASHINGTON, July 6—(P)—President Truman today signed legislation giving postal employees their first general pay raise since 1925.

For regular postal employees in so-called automatic grades, the legislation provides a 20 per cent increase in base pay, or $400 a year, whichever is the lesser. In no event will the raise be less than $300.

It provides for overtime payment at the rate of time and one-half for time worked in excess of a basic 260-workdays annually, the payment to be in money or compensating time off, and for a differential of ten per cent for employees who work regularly at night. The overtime provisions do not apply to supervisors, rural carriers, traveling mechanics and some employees of the railway mail service and the air mail service.

It changes the salary of postmasters by putting them on a basis of 100 per cent of the gross receipts of their offices instead of the present 85 and 90 per cent.

Boost in Pay

Postmasters in first class offices, except those now receiving $6,000 or more, will get boosts of from $300 to $400 annually; second class, $400 to $600; third class, $300 and fourth class, 20 per cent of their present base, which now varies. Clerks in third class offices working not less than 40 hours weekly are placed in automatic grades ranging from $1,200 to $1,700.

The base pay of most postmasters and supervisory workers in their offices varies according to postal revenues of the offices.

The legislation provides eleven grades of classifications for city delivery carriers, clerks and employees with work comparable to that of carriers and clerks. The pay of the grades ranges from $1,700 to $2,700, depending on type and length of service.

For carriers in the rural delivery service, who had been paid on a mileage basis, the legislation provides 14 pay grades, with automatic promotions for meritorious service.

It provides for a pay scale of $3,000 to $6,000 for inspectors, who now are paid on a scale ranging from $2,600 to $3,400.

Morgenthau's Resignation A Surprise

WASHINGTON, July 6—(P)—The reason for Henry Morgenthau's resignation as secretary of the treasury, it was learned today, was that he became tired of recurring rumors that he was about to be replaced in the cabinet.

A source in position to know the facts, but who cannot be quoted by name, gave this version:

Morgenthau, feeling that he could only work in an atmosphere of confidence, made an appointment with President Truman yesterday, went to the White House and bluntly asked for assurances as to his status. He wanted to get it settled before Mr. Truman leaves for Europe.

Evidently he was not satisfied with Truman's reply, for his sudden resignation followed. His closest associates at the treasury were genuinely surprised.

Fleet Airmen Playing Pool With Bombs

OKINAWA, July 4—(Delayed)—(P)—Fliers of Fleet Air Wing One are developing a new sport—playing pool with bombs. The pockets are Japanese tunnels.

Lt. Comdr. A. F. Farwell of Pensacola, Fla., said: "It's a neat trick. Almost like shooting pool."

The pilots swoop within 75 feet of the tunnel entrance and the trick is to make the bomb skip, hop and jump into the opening where it explodes.

"It's not as hard as it sounds," said Farwell, "and when it succeeds the bombs blow the tunnel badly."

Today's score: Three tunnel entrances on Korea.

Man Weighing Only 140 Has Big Appetite

Once He Ate an 18-Pound Turkey At One Meal

ATLANTA, July 6—(P)—He's just an ordinary guy. In fact, he might be just a little under ordinary—weighs only 140 and is slightly less than average height.

But doctors can't figure out why Pfc. Chester J. Salvatore has such an appetite. He has, to put it mildly, a gargantuan appetite.

For example, here's a breakfast that's the common thing for this soldier from Southampton, Mass.

Forty eggs, 20 pieces of toast, several quarts of milk, eight pieces of bacon, a quart of coffee and a box—the large "economy size"—of cereal.

It's His Story

Once, so he says, he ate an 18-pound turkey at one meal—without help. His favorite meat is pork chops and he says he's eaten as many as 36 at one sitting.

Physicians who have the little guy with the big appetite under observation at the Ft. McPherson station hospital say his stomach is a little larger than average—but not much.

They also say his craving for food may be psychological, but they are not definite.

Salvatore says his prodigious appetite came upon him about 12 years ago.

British Legal Adviser Lost

LONDON, July 6—(P)—Sir William Malkin, legal adviser to the British foreign office, was among 15 passengers and crew on board "ah RAF Liberator missing since Monday on a flight from Montreal to London, the air ministry announced today.

Three other members of the foreign office staff were on the plane, which was returning personnel from the San Francisco conference.

Three Americans were among the six crew members. They are Capt. G. P. Evans, pilot; Capt. J. W. Ross, co-pilot and G. B. Swanley, flight engineer.

The air ministry said air and sea rescue ships and long range aircraft are continuing the search along lanes of the charted course.

Barracks Baby

TAMPA, Fla., July 6—(P)—A new Negro recruit brought his two year old child along to Drew Field—and kept it in his barracks for five days.

His buddies took turns caring for the child, but when the entire nursing squad was called to duty together the youngster set up such a howl an officer investigated.

The Red Cross took over and placed the child with a Tampa family.

Caught Attempting To Smuggle Poultry

DETROIT, July 6—(P)—The United States customs patrol reported today that 14 pleasure craft were seized in the Detroit area during June while attempting to smuggle poultry out of Canada in violation of the dominion embargo.

A customs official said the boats, ranging from a rowboat to a $2,000 cruiser, were taken into custody in the Detroit river and St. Clair area.

Japanese Ship Evacuates 974 Wounded

U. S. Permits One Of Most Humane Incidents of War

By Leif Erickson

GUAM, July 6—(P)—A Japanese hospital ship evacuated 974 wounded and sick Japanese soldiers and sailors from Wake Island with the permission of the United States Navy, Pacific Fleet Headquarters announced today.

The incident was unprecedented in the Pacific war.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported that the enemy ship was stopped and searched by an American destroyer at it approached and again as it left Wake Island, where U. S. Marines held out gallantly early in the war until overrun by overwhelming numbers of Japanese assault troops.

American boarding parties found that the bulk of the 974 taken off Wake were suffering from malnutrition, testifying to the effectiveness of the long American air and sea blockade of the island 1,985 miles southeast of Tokyo. Nipponese medical officers estimated 15 per cent of these wouldn't survive the voyage to Tokyo. Fifteen per cent of the rescued enemy garrison taken off were suffering from tuberculosis. Fourteen were wounded.

The evacuation presumably removed most of the Japanese garrison and was a virtual admission that American forces could take Wake any time they wish.

In one of the most dramatically humane incidents of the Pacific war, the U. S. S. Destroyer Murray intercepted, stopped and searched the Japanese hospital ship Takasago Maru about 300 miles north of Wake Tuesday.

The Murray's commander reported that a boarding party from his ship searched the Takasago with the full cooperation of the Japanese commanding officer, who said his vessel was on the way to Wake to evacuate the garrison's sick and wounded.

Yanks Permit Voyage

The Nipponese officer said his ship would remain at Wake a few hours and then proceed to Japan.

The American commander permitted the hospital ship to continue its voyage.

The Murray intercepted the Takasago Maru again yesterday, about 40 miles north of Wake, and again a boarding party searched the ship.

They found it was carrying 974 military patients from Wake. Of these 490 were navy personnel and 484 army personnel.

After this visit and search, the Murray's commander told the hospital ship to continue her voyage to Japan.

Produce Men On Strike

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 6—(P)—Between 400 and 500 employees of the Producers Produce company here went out on strike early today in protest of the company's failure to obey a WLB order directing inclusion of a "union maintenance clause" in the company's contract.

Plant Manager A. L. Farnham said the union had waived its right to the clause—which provides for company collection of dues from union member employees—in a verbal agreement with the company.

A representative of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Union (AFL), Leo La Fauc, of Chicago, denied existence of a verbal agreement, pointed out that the company is ignoring a directive from the WLB in Kansas City and Washington.

Four Transports Dock

NEW YORK, July 6—(P)—Four transports, including the George Washington, which was President Wilson's peace conference ship in 1918, docked in this area yesterday carrying more than 7,000 troops home from Europe.

Lt. Col. Howard M. Betts, new Air Inspector with 61st Wing Headquarters, Sedalia Army Air Field.

Lt. Col. Betts Assigned to Sedalia Field

Participated in D-Day Activities Out of England

Lt. Col. Howard M. Betts, formerly base air inspector at Pope Field, N. C., has assumed the position of air inspector and executive officer for the 61st Wing Headquarters, a First Troop Carrier Command inspecting organization operating from the Sedalia Army Air Field.

The new air inspector, who will make his home at 1436 South Steed avenue, Sedalia, is a pilot returned from the Mediterranean and European theatres of operation and served with the 53rd Squadron, 61st Troop Carrier Group in those areas. His theatre ribbon shows 6 battle stars for his activities there. In addition to the Presidential Unit Citation, he is the holder of a Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with 3 Oak Leaf Clusters and the Croix De Guerre.

In D-Day Activities

The Croix De Guerre points to the fact that Lt. Col. Betts participated in the D-Day activities of the Troop Carrier Groups operating from England. On that day he flew paratroopers to the Normandy peninsula and then shuttled back and forth between the peninsula and England, dropping supplies to the airborne fighters he had originally carried over. His actions that day were of such nature as to merit the award of this much coveted French decoration.

The Lieutenant Colonel is a native of Los Angeles, Calif., as is his wife, but is a great admirer of the middle west and well pleased with his new station at Sedalia.

Fifth Joins Seventh

The Fifth Air Force joined the 20th (Superfortresses) air force, the Seventh Air Force, two fleet air wings and the Second Marine aircraft wing in hitting the enemy homeland. Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle's Eighth Air Force will soon augment these.

The 13th Air Force was left the task of continuing the Allied southward push into the Dutch East Indies and raiding the South Asiatic coast, in cooperation with Australian and Dutch air forces.

Daylight Raids

Tokyo said today's American air blows against the homeland included daylight raids on Kyushu island by 160 Okinawa-based fighter planes flying through the bad weather. Ninety Mustangs from Iwo Jima hitting airdromes on the three sides of Tokyo were said to be led by a single B-29.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reporting on earlier air strikes said the neutralizing raids were continued against Tokyo and Kyushu airdromes, seven small vessels sunk around Japan and Korea and trains and railway tunnels wrecked on the main line from Korea to Manchuria.

Air Might Against Homeland

Japanese Estimate 11,000 Allied Planes Are Now Pressing Attack

By Leonard Milliman

Associated Press War Editor

Startling evidence of American air might being hurled against Japan came today as Tokyo reported 250 U. S. planes made double-strikes against the homeland for the third successive day.

Japanese sources estimated 11,000 Allied planes are pressing the attack against Nippon. American announcements disclosed:

1. Almost the entire Nipponese garrison was evacuated from Wake island in a state of starvation testifying to the effectiveness of air and sea blockades of bypassed islands.

2. More than 120 square miles of Japanese industrial cities have been destroyed by Superforts. This includes newly announced destruction of 74 per cent of Tokushima, largest city on Shikoku island, knocked out in a single July 4 fire raid and 63 per cent of Okayama, important inland sea port 100 miles from Osaka.

3. The U. S. Fifth Air Force, which paved the way for Gen. Douglas MacArthur's return to the Philippines, has been shifted to attacking Japan in the first move of MacArthur's forces on the road from Manila to Tokyo.

Japs Burn as They Go

In the only noteworthy ground action Australian troops completed the conquest of Balikpapan, Borneo's refinery city, captured the Manggar bomber field, and drove over mined and booby-trapped coastal highways toward the rich Samarinda oil field. Retreating Japanese were following the same scorched earth policy as the Dutch when they yielded Borneo's oil resources.

Man Must Pay Terrible Price When He Disregards Laws of the Lord. Scriptures: Genesis, Chapters 3-9

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The evidence of man's sin and failure is everywhere about us today. Two world wars within our own time provide a sufficient and striking commentary upon the Genesis story of the fall of man; and the revelations of World War II have shown to what incredible depths of baseness, violence, and cruelty man can descend.

The essential truth of the Genesis story, with its allegory of the serpent and the apple and the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil, is that man sinned and fell and that the essence of sin is disobedience to the divine command.

Genesis represents man's sin as eating of the forbidden fruit, and the fact that in his disobedience man became conscious of wrong, and a moral being, capable of distinguishing between good and evil has led some to say that "the fall was a fall upward." In line with this is the notion that sin is a sort of lesser good, a factor in human progress, man learning by his mistakes as a burnt child dreads the fire.

This was all very plausible and pleasant; but we don't hear much of it today. It doesn't accord with the Bible or the facts of life. We see sin, not as a "lesser good," but as something inherently and desperately wicked. When man disregards God's commandments we see how fiendishly he can treat his fellowmen. There is no fall upward in such fiendishness.

We are conscious today, too, of the consequences of man's sin.

Adam and Eve lost the idyllic Garden of Eden, but can we not see in that a symbol of the Eden of peace and prosperity, and contentment and happiness, that man has lost today through sin and selfishness, and hatred and strife? The knowledge and inventive genius that ought to have blessed man and added to his happiness have been turned to discovering and developing newer and more powerful weapons of destruction and ways of using them. It is of no use simply to wring our hands and deplore war; we have discovered that sinners and aggressors have to be stopped. But wars arise from sin and wrong doing, and man pays a terrible price for disregarding God's way of peace and righteousness and love. It is estimated that 60 million people have lost their lives in World War II and there can be no estimate of the sacrifices and suffering of other millions of the living.

But over against man's sin and failure stand God's promises and God's redeeming grace. If it were not for these, man must have perished completely long ago. The world is not all evil. War itself brings out the human heritage of courage, devotion to a cause, and willingness to die that others may live.

Man has sinned and failed; but God is not dead. His promises are fulfilled in countless numbers, who love Him and who love their fellowmen. Sodom might have been spared had there been a few righteous men within its wicked gates. There are many righteous in this war-stricken, sinful world of today, and they are the hope and assurance of its salvation.

Optimism

There is a saying, meant to curb all optimists, about looking at life through rose-tinted glasses. Realists know that life is never all sweetness and light; there is too much shabbiness and cruelty in the world to justify any such pretense. But that is far from implying that every optimist must be either blind or a fool. It merely helps us to distinguish between men who see only the grime and mud at their feet and others who behold as well the stars above their heads.

All deeply religious men are optimists. That does not mean they are unconscious of the squalor, meanness, debauchery and cowardice outside the orbit of their own quiet, orderly lives. It does not mean they are strangers to pain and disappointment, that they may not at times feel like echoing the bitter cry of Gethsemane. The optimist is not a man preserved from the storms of life. He is rather a man who uses his faith as an anchor to keep him from being swept into the oblivion of fear and despair.

What makes him an optimist is not how life treats him, but how wisely and clearly he perceives the goodness and mercy of God in a world that might otherwise be utterly dark with the blindness of its own folly. He does not see a somber, vengeful God flagellating the guilty souls of men; but an ever-present Friend, grieving over ills that men themselves have willed, and beckoning to those who cry out for the comfort and shelter of His love.

Optimism is a badge of high courage. The optimist knows that life is hard, a yoke to be endured, a battle to be fought; but he accepts the challenge without asking odds. He knows that with every obstacle overcome, every pain endured, every temptation set aside, the soul climbs ever upward to a haven prepared by the Divine Optimist Himself.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"SACRAMENT" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 8, 1945.

Golden Text: I Corinthians 11:26. Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it." (Matt. 26:26, 27) The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true sense is spiritually lost, if the sacrament is confined to the use of bread and wine. The disciples had eaten, yet Jesus prayed and gave them bread. This would have been foolish in a literal sense; but in its spiritual significance, it was natural and beautiful. Jesus prayed; he withdrew from the material senses to refresh his heart with brighter, with spiritual views." (p. 32)

Determine Second Place Winners

Intra-league play in the Boy Scout softball games ended Tuesday evening, resulting in the determining of the second place winners in each league who will play in the playoffs.

In the American League, Troop 51 defeated Troop 67 to score the fifth consecutive win and place them first. The score was 17 to 3. Batteries for this game: 67, Sprague and Delph; 51, Cauley and Smith.

Qualifying themselves as second place winners to the tune of 14 to 7, Troop 57 won over Troop 54 with a nine run rally in the sixth inning, even though Troop 54 led until the sixth. This game's batteries: 54, Walker and Potts; 57, Schwenker and Cramer.

Merely playing ball using several different pitchers and catchers, Troop 60 took the big end of the score with Troop 53, the score being 8 to 4.

Troop 50 with 20 runs went way over Troop 66 with only 3 runs, to place them first in the National League, this also being Troop 50's fifth consecutive win. Batteries: 50, G. Hunt, Hill and Trout; 66, Green, Schultz and Delph.

Requiring an extra inning to win, Troop 56 fought it out with Troop 58 to the score of 11 to 9 in what was called as the best league game of this season. This win qualified Troop 56 to play in the playoffs representing the National League as second place winner.

The minor game of this league played Thursday night was between Troop 65 and Troop 52, with Troop 65 winning, 8 to 5. Batteries: 65, Eckert and Nelson; 52, Moppes and Rendbed.

The playoffs will start next Thursday night on the Smith-cotton athletic field for three series which will name the first, second, and third and fourth place teams of the season.

The games played Thursday night were the last ones in which all the teams will participate.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, July 6—(P)—Navy Lt. Ted Schroeder, who isn't at sea where tennis is concerned though his present address is with the Atlantic fleet, rises to take issue with Welby Van Horn's recent selection of ten professional racketeers who could lick the ranking amateurs. . . . Schroeder's ratings are based on 1941 — "Amateur tennis" last representative year — while Van Horn was counting only currently active amateurs. Still, Ted's opinions are worth a hearing.

Not Tennis Bums

"Don Budge, at or near his best, could whip any player in the world, pro or amateur, but Don below par could be beaten, as he was in New York in March, 1944 — and by an amateur, too," Schroeder says. . . . "Bob Riggs, probably the most underrated player in the game, was beaten in 1940 amateur championship, and in the 1941 championship he was maybe just a little fortunate to win his semi-finals match. Both his opponents in those two matches remain amateurs. . . . Frank Kovacs is a genius with a tennis racket, yet he has lost twice as many matches as he has won against Frank Parker and Gardner Mulloy. . . . Van Horn may be a great player but his record doesn't show it. . . . Wayne Sabin is a good tennis player, yet he was able to rank sixth in 1941."

. . . Ted adds that Fred Perry and Bill Tilden, tops in their day, have long since passed that day and other leading pros admittedly aren't in the same class as these leaders.

Simple Solution

"The truth is that professional tennis needs the amateurs far more than the amateurs need the pros," Schroeder concludes. . . . "What I would like to see is for everyone concerned, not excepting myself, to hold their peace until after an open match is held. Then statements can be based on something more substantial than opinion. . . . I do not claim the amateurs would win — I do not admit the pros would. . . . I'd certainly like to see such a match materialize, as I believe it would provide a great stimulus to tennis, both amateur and professional."

Just Horsing Around

Alex Robb of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, Inc., comes up with the yarn of a horse that had a walkover and still couldn't win (sounds like some we bet on) . . . Seems a horse named Tillicum was being vanned to the Folkstone course in England, where he was the only starter in a race. . . . The van broke down and Tillicum failed to arrive in time to walk over the course.

Vehicles Must Have Stamps

Dan M. Nee, internal revenue collector for the sixth district of Missouri, calls attention to the fact that all persons operating motor vehicles on the streets or highways without purchasing motor vehicle stamps, are delinquent and are subject to civil and criminal penalties.

Mr. Nee states:

"The law provides: (1) that the motor vehicle stamps must be purchased by the owner of the motor vehicle, (2) that it must be displayed on the motor vehicle, attached to the windshield. For failure to comply with either of these provisions, the owner of the motor vehicle is liable to penalty."

"It has been my policy to give all persons ample opportunity to comply with the provisions of the tax laws. I have been lenient so far; but on or about the eleventh day of July, all motor vehicles being operated on the streets or highways without the motor vehicle used tax stamp displayed on the windshield, will be penalized according to the provisions of the law. Deputy collectors throughout the district will give special attention to the Delinquent Motor Vehicle Used Tax Law, and will require the operators of the motor vehicles to purchase a stamp for the full year, and also pay the delinquent penalty."

"We are fighting a war to maintain our democratic institutions. As long as a law is on the statute books, it is the duty of all citizens to respect and obey that law, and by obligation in an official capacity, to enforce that law."

Grand Jury Will Hear Bell

JEFFERSON CITY, July 6—(P)—A St. Louis circuit court grand jury is due to hear from Secretary of State Wilson Bell Monday now employees of the automobile registration office there juggled accounts and got away with at least $2,200 from unsuspecting car owners.

Bell said Col. Hugh H. Waggoner and Capt. J. F. Shaw of the highway patrol also had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury.

Investigation of irregularities in the office started last March when an automobile owner noticed that the motor number on his car and on his license receipt did not jibe. Since then four employees of the St. Louis office have been discharged and Bell said a spot check showed evidence of defalcations extending back at least five years.

New Drug is 'Miraculous'

TOPEKA, Kas., July 6—(P)—A new drug made from chlorophyll, the coloring matter which makes plants green, is performing "curative miracles" in an army hospital here, according to Oliver E. Ebel, secretary of the Kansas medical society.

Ebel said that a young doctor at Winter General army hospital had been experimenting with the drug which he had removed from grass — alfalfa and cuttings from the hospital lawn.

"The drug which is brand new," he said, "will stop the drainage of wounds and is one of the most potent ever discovered in the healing of wounds."

"From all indications, it will cause a sensation in the medical profession when it has been perfected. The doctor is now preparing an article about it for medical magazines and it is scheduled for publication in the near future."

At Winter General hospital, the authorities declined to release the name of the doctor who made the experiments, and also declined to discuss experiments or their results because they felt that "any work done thus far was inconclusive."

Merry-Go-Round

by DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, July 6—A significant, off-the-record meeting took place between Secretary of War Stimson, one-time Republican candidate for governor of New York and Democratic governor Herbert Lehman, five times governor of New York, now head of UNRRA.

Lehman has been greatly troubled about the danger of acute starvation in Europe next winter and fears the United States will get the blame. Actually, there is food in Europe, but it is unevenly distributed and difficult to transport to cities. Meanwhile, European railroads are overburdened.

Ex-Governor Lehman, therefore, went to see Stimson to point out that the U. S. army had 800,000 trucks in Europe, and he wanted to borrow 50,000 of them for food distribution.

Stimson listened briefly, but turned the subject to the political situation in Europe. He seemed much more interested in whether Europe could keep the peace, apparently forgetting that people with full stomachs are more peaceful than those half-starved. Lehman got no definite answer and still has been unable to get an answer from Stimson's generals. They keep saying they need trucks for "deployment."

Brass Hats in Hot Water

The same subject, plus other important matters, was debated in a secret session of the Mead committee last week. Present were representatives of UNRRA, the state department, war department, foreign economic administration, treasury and maritime commission. All got in hot water during the three-hour closed-door meeting except the maritime commission and UNRRA. Unpopular brass hat General Brehon Somervell, who showed up with a small army of 60 aides, took the worst thumping of all.

Somervell admitted under questioning that the army has at least 50,000 surplus trucks in Europe. New York's hard working senator Mead then asked Governor Lehman if he had been able to pick up any of these trucks for relief work.

"Do you want any of these trucks?" asked Mead. "Do we want them?" replied Lehman. "The trouble is we can't get them. We can't seem to get them released. I've got a telegram from Yugoslavia here telling that one hungry Yugoslav city, Sarajevo, has only three trucks to feed thousands of people. Why, some towns are starving, while they're burning the food just a few miles away in the same country because they can't move. A year from now the army will be begging us to take trucks. Then we won't need them. We want them now when they can save lives."

Several senators quizzed Somervell as to why UNRRA hadn't received the trucks yet. All the general could reply was, "The war department's working on it."

After more discussion, Lehman, whose anger was rising, stood up from the back of the room, looked straight at Somervell, and said: "There's all that surplus army stuff, especially in Italy. Why can't we get it?"

Somervell hesitated. "We want to cooperate," he said lamely, "and we're going to."

German Equipment for Chinese? Ohio's Bob Taft then took over the questioning.

"General, you're planning to arm thousands of Chinese troops. They've been trained by German officers. Why don't we use captured German equipment to arm them? You must have a lot of it by now."

"I felt the same way about it at first, senator," Somervell replied. "But it would only ball up our transport and create a lot of time-wasting headaches if we tried to send all that German stuff to China. In the long run it will be cheaper and faster to send new supplies from here. Besides, we'd have to retrain those Chinese who have already been taught to use our equipment and teach them to use German weapons."

Taft then moved in on Admiral

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

Capt. H. O. Moss, Corporal C. W. Woods and Privates E. C. Jobe, R. F. Berkhimer and F. C. Wilkerson of Co. D, Second regiment, left this morning for St. Joseph to arrange the preliminaries for the company at the state encampment to be held there next week.

Pat McGinley, who recently returned from a ten months' visit at his old home in Ireland, has resumed his position with McGinley Bros., and is calling upon his customers as of old.

Professor E. J. Scott of Liberty has been elected superintendent of the Marshall public schools, vice Professor J. M. Taylor resigned.

Home Robbins, who has been connected with the local Standard Oil plant for the past five years, has resigned his position and has gone to Colorado for the benefit of his health.

New York, July 6—President Roosevelt has offered the position of secretary of state to Elihu Root and that gentleman who has served as secretary of war, has accepted the position.

Land of the maritime commission, asked him how the Russians were able to transport war material on American Liberty ships flying the Soviet flag without being attacked by Jap subs and aircraft.

"Senator," he replied, "I'll be damned if I'm going to let the Japs find out the inside story of that one."

Several senators then asked why our GI Joe was taking such a beating in France because of the unfavorable exchange rate.

"Since when does the GI have to carry the burden of inflation in France?" asked Michigan's shrewd Republican Senator Ferguson.

"They don't have to spend their money in France, you know," replied one of Somervell's aides. "They can ship it home."

This burned the senators up. One demanded why the men who fought in Europe shouldn't have a chance to spend their money and enjoy life now that the shooting had stopped. Ferguson asked what the army was doing to improve the situation.

Brig. Gen. Kenneth Royall replied that the army was expanding the post exchanges in France so that men could buy everything, including gifts, at reasonable prices.

Several senators quizzed Dean Acheson and Will Clayton of the state department as to who had fixed the unfavorable rate of exchange with the French. Both replied they didn't know. Actually, President Roosevelt had done it personally during the Casablanca conference.

Senator Tamm of Delaware then asked Governor Lehman how much farm machinery UNRRA was shipping overseas.

"I don't want to mislead this committee," Lehman replied. "Percentage-wise it's practically nothing, perhaps two or three percent of our total production. However, we asked for 171,000 tons of food to feed Europe's starving people. We're getting less than 80,000. Now some people are complaining because we've given them machinery to grow their own food."

Lehman also pointed out to the senators that UNRRA is now forced to buy considerable machinery in Canada. The dominion is eager to move in on the post-war European market, Lehman said, but he also cautioned that Canadian tractors require Canadian repairmen and that the Canadians are delighted with the chance to move in on our export trade.

The committee tried to find out just what the government can expect to get back out of the lend-lease we have shipped to Europe. Neither Acheson, Clayton, Somervell, nor the FEA could answer.

Admiral Land said the maritime commission would lose nothing, since the U. S. kept title to all ships on lend-lease.

Finally, one senator asked if there wasn't some overall body which knows all about American property abroad and whether it's surplus or not. But no one was able to answer.

Secret Pal Box Opened

The Flat Creek Home Extension club met June 26 with Mrs. William McCune.

After a contributive luncheon, Mrs. J. T. Edmundson presided over the business session. Roll call subject was "My Wedding Dress"—some members wore their dresses and others showed wedding pictures.

A game was played and the "secret pal" box opened.

A chair clinic will be held July 12 at the home of Mrs. R. L. Wadleigh.

Visitors were Mrs. Fred Dillon and Mrs. Otto Cordes. The club welcomed back a former member Mrs. Amanda Cordes, who has spent the past two years in California.

The club will next meet with Mrs. A. B. Robertson.

Morgenthau Resigns As Treasury Head

Successor Be Named After The Big Three Meet

WASHINGTON, July 6—(P)—President Truman Thursday accepted the resignation of Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

The President said he would name Morgenthau's successor upon his return from the big three meeting near Berlin which he said would take place in about three weeks.

Names which have figured in speculation over a new treasury chief include Director of War Mobilization Fred Vinson, John W. Snyder, the new Federal Loan Administrator, Senator George (D-Ga.), veteran chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Walter J. Cummings of Chicago, board chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company.

The President made it clear to his weekly news conference that he has in mind keeping Harold L. Ickes as Interior Secretary for some months at least. He said Ickes will be sent to London soon to help renegotiate an Anglo-American oil agreement.

The President read a letter from Morgenthau offering his resignation, together with his reply expressing gratitude for Morgenthau's service during more than 12 years in government since 1934, as a cabinet member.

Successor In Mind

The President told reporters he had a successor in mind but that he would not disclose his name now.

Mr. Truman also said Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York has been given presidential permission to go to France, but said that the New Yorker was going for his own welfare and benefit and not for the government. He will not go in uniform.

A reporter asked if Mr. Truman planned later to make Morgenthau American representative on the International Bank to be created under the Bretton Woods agreement, but the President said he was not ready to answer that at this time.

He said he did not plan to confer with Prime Minister Churchill elsewhere before going to the Big Three meeting in Germany. It will be a Big Three meeting, he said, and three will be there.

He would not say the date of the Big Three meeting but declared it would be sometime during the next three weeks.

At the same news conference, Mr. Truman announced the appointments of Edward C. Moran, to be assistant secretary of labor and Jesse Donaldson to be first assistant postmaster general.

Praising Morgenthau's tax program, the chief executive said he had reasons to be proud of his work in that capacity as well as in the sale of war bonds and that he could "feel a great sense of accomplishment."

Asked what action might be taken in congress with reference to the Bretton Woods agreements, Mr. Truman replied that was a matter for the leaders on Capitol Hill to answer. However, he said he thought there would be no delay in enacting international economic and monetary legislation after the United Nations peace charter is ratified by the senate.

Under questioning, the President said Morgenthau simply wanted to quit.

Show How To Set Out Plant

Eleven members of the Lamine 4-H club met recently at the home of Sharon and Linda Johnston. Five visitors were present.

The meeting was opened with repetition of the club pledge and pledge of allegiance to the flag. The club voted to make a collection of tin cans, each member to bring his collection to the next meeting.

Chester Knox, Jr., and Glen McMullin demonstrated how to set out a plant. Songs appropriate to Flag Day were sung.

After the meeting, all remained to help Sharon Johnston celebrate her birthday anniversary with games, contests, birthday cake and ice cream.

Great Britain Holds Election

Outcome Will Not Be Known For Next Three Weeks

LONDON, July 6—(P)— Great Britain chose a new government Thursday to finish the war with Japan and to lay foundations for peace to come, but the result will not be known for three weeks.

The election was orderly and quiet, in sharp contrast to the rancor of one of the bitterest campaigns in decades.

The British press association said between 70 and 80 per cent of the registered electors were estimated to have cast ballots. On the basis of 30,000,000 eligible voters this would mean a total vote of between 21 and 24 million.

Voters decided whether their immediate future would be shaped by the free enterprise system advocated by Prime Minister Churchill and the conservatives, or by the labor party with its announced goal of a "socialist commonwealth of Great Britain."

The ballots will not be counted until July 26, after the service vote is returned from all the battlefronts. The results are expected to be announced about noon that day.

Watched By World

The world watched the election for an indication of whether Europe's postwar political pendulum would swing to the left or the right.

In one of the last speeches of the stormy campaign, Churchill asserted that defeat of his conservative "caretaker" government would cast many European countries into communism.

"If there should be a landslide to the left many countries on the continent would slide, not into decent socialism, but into the violence of communism," he said. "If we go down, all the ninepins of Europe will fall."

Labor party leader Clement Attlee and other laborites have demanded the nationalization of coal mining, power, inland transport and the iron and steel industries of Britain.

"Labor will organize the economic life of the country in order to insure good homes, food, clothing, social security, employment, leisure, freedom and the amenities of life for everybody," Attlee said in a final speech.

"This has never been done under the system of 'private interests first' which the conservatives support," he said.

Churchill himself, like thousands of others, was unable to vote because his name was left off the

SPITFIRE MAKES A FRIEND

GINGISS was waiting for us in front of the Delamar Hotel in Bombay. He waited outside until we had signed up for rooms. When he saw us head for the elevator he came in and briskly walked across the lobby to join us. All the way up in the elevator he complained in a loud voice about the taxicab situation in Bombay, continuing his lousy lament until all our baggage had been brought to the rooms and the porters were paid off and the doors closed. Then he sat down the canvas bags and dropped into a chair, exhausted. In the welcome silence we could then hear the protesting whines of the cats.

We had arranged for transportation to Durbin on the east coast of South Africa aboard the British passenger ship Strathmore, and during our stay in Bombay we gave considerable thought to how we were going to get the cats aboard without letting the ship's crew know anything about it. The best bet finally seemed to be to put them back in the two canvas bags, and that is what we did. I took one bag, with Spitfire in it, and Tony took the other containing Margot and Suzy Q. Gingsiss said it was up to us to get them out of Bombay; he had gotten them in. We stalled around until the last minute before the ship sailed and, in the excitement of our late arrival, together with the fact that we were still wearing our service uniforms, the port authorities gave us no trouble at all.

to his full height, glaring at me in outraged dignity.

"Just a leopard, Captain," I said. "Cute little fellow—just a kitten. Captured him myself in the jungle. Taking him home—back to the States, you know—look now, just put out your hand, real slowly. He'll come over to be petted."

Cautiously the Captain bent down a little and stretched out a hand. Spitfire studied it warily a moment, then he got up and trotted forward. The Captain touched the back of his head, twiddled his ears, stroked his back.

They were friends in two minutes. There was a trying moment a couple of hours later when Gingsiss and Tony and I trotted out all three of the leopards for the Captain's inspection, but after a certain amount of protest and sputtering he calmed down and agreed to expand the accommodations then being prepared for Spitfire in the stateroom.

THERE was only one disturbing note in the entire affair then, and that was that Gingsiss Margot was acting strangely. She preferred lying down to standing and she didn't want to play with the other cats or even to be petted by Al. She hadn't eaten well for 12 hours or more and the way she curled up when she was lying down suggested stomach pains. The reason, we knew, was that she wasn't getting barley water with her milk. In the excitement of getting the cats on the boat at Bombay we had forgotten to lay in a supply of that essential digestion aid, and there was none of it available on the boat.

When the captain noticed Margot's lethargy he summoned the ship's doctor. For the next two days, under his treatment—which consisted of adding a couple of drops of brandy to the milk—she showed some improvement. And then one night at 2:30 a. m. the little leopard let out a last feeble whine and died.

AS I led Spitfire out into the corridor I waited for the Captain's reaction. For no good reason I had an idea he would take an immediate liking to Spitfire. "What in the hell is this?" boomed the Captain. His face turned purple and his gray mustache bristled as he drew himself
